tice Get Him-Western Crook Escapes

Bartlett and another man went to Hawker's house about 8 o'clock last night and found Hawker sitting in his office. Bartlett, who is a grocer's clerk out of a job, says his companion was Harry Cooper, Western crook whom he met in Jersey City Friday afternoon. Cooper, Bartlet says, learning that the boy had once lodged in Hawker's house, put him up to robbing Hawker and gave him a revolver aid a bottle of chloroform. Hawker put Bartlett out three weeks ago for not paying his rent. The boy had no trouble in getting into the house because he had a key of the front door. Hawker was in his office in the back of the house when Bartlett and his companion walked in on him. Bartlett told Hawker that his companion needed treatment, and Hawker walked toward Cooper. As he did Bartlett pointed a revolver at his head

Now open your safe, and give us a your money.'

Hawker grappled with Bartlett and grabbed the revolver. They fell to the loor and Bartlett, who is taller and stronger than Hawker, got the revolver again. He pounded Hawker on the face with it, cutting his nose, face and eyes, and then shoved the revolver into his mouth, knocking out three of his teeth.

While Partlett and Hawker were struggling Cooper went providently around the room looking for valuables.

The noise of the scuffle brought Mrs.

Hawker and the servant, Annie Brenn an. The servant ran out of the house and got Policeman Shields, but he was too late to capture Cooper, who had followed the servant

The policeman took Hawker and Bartlett to the station, and Dr. Pope, who came in an ambulance from Flower Hospital, dressed Hawker's face, which had been slashed all

The police found a bottle of chloroforn and a black mask in Bartlett's pocket. The boy had evidently been drinking.

He said that he went to Hoboken on Friday to try and get a job with the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad He didn't succeed, and was walking toward Jersey City when he met Cooper. The told him that he knew of an easy way of making money, and took him to a Fourteenth street saloon. There Bart lett told Cooper of Hawker, and Cooper suggested that it would be an easy matter

Hawker, the police say, has done time for illegal practice.

LEEDS'S YACHT WENT ASHORE. Anchored in Feg and Was Torn Away by Ratiroad Floats.

After resting several hours on a bed of rocks of Woolsey's Point, at the entrance to Hell Gate, the handsome sea-going steam yacht Noma, owned by William B. Leeds, was floated off at high tide about 11 o'clock yesterday morning and towed away by a Chapman-Merritt wrecking tug. The Noma left her moorings at East Twentycarefully up the East River in a fog on the way to Port Washington When she got into Hell Gate the fog shut down and it was thought advisable to anchor. A swift ebb tide was running and about 7 o'clock, before the fog lifted, the vacht was run into by a tow of two heavy railroad floats. The yacht was swept from her anchorage like a cork and drifted helplessly on the dangerous current. Everybody aboard was aroused by the shock and as the extent of the damage was not known life preservers were passed around. In a few minutes, however, they were convinced that the boat had suffered no serious damage She was finally swung around by the current and grounded on a ledge of rocks about 200 feet off Woolsey's Point. She careened to port until her deck was almost awash, but she slowly righted. A boat was put ashore for assistance and a wrecking tug was summoned.

STOLEN CHILD GIVEN UP.

Taken From Its Mother In a Toledo Street -Surrendered at Night.

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 27 .- A kidnapping occurred in the principal business street this afternoon when the two-year-old child of "Red" Owens, Toledo's second baseman, was stolen from his mother. Mrs. Owens stopped to speak to a friend and turned just in time to see a man pick up the child and disappear down an alley. She gave chase, calling for help, but the man disappeared.

Policemen and searching parties were all over the city in a short time, but without avail. Early this evening some person thrust a child through a lattice work into a store, and shortly after a man came in, took the child and took it to the mother's apartments at the St. James Hotel. He then disappeard.

TRAIN ROBBER LOGAN FREE.

Escapes From Jall in Knoxville, Tenn. Had a Twenty Years' Sentence.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 27 .- Harvey Logan; the noted train robber, escaped from jail here this afternoon by overpowering a special guard, Frank Irwin, and Jailer Tom Bell. He made Bell saddle Sheriff J. F. Fox's horse, on which he escaped toward the mountains, going southward. Logan was arrested after seriously shooting Policeman Bob Saylor and William Dinwoodle in a barroom fight here Dec. 13, 1901. It developed that he was a participant in the Great Western train rob-bery at Wagner, Mon., July 3, 1901, in which $40,000 of the Helena National Bank was Logan, in the Federal court here received a twenty-year sentence for forging the names of the banks' officers to unsigned bills. He was awaiting removal to the Columbus, Ohio, penitentiary.

GORDON M'KAY SINKING.

No Hope for Him Recovery-May Leave

Harvard #5,000,000. NEWPORT. R. I., June 27 .- The friends of Gordon McKay, who has been ill at his Newport villa all winter, were sorry to learn to-day that his condition is such that a great deal of the time he is in a semi-con-ectous condition, and that his death is merely actious condition, and that his death is merely a matter of a few days. His physician, Dr. Kenefick, who is in constant attendance, can give no hope for his recovery. It was eaid to-day that Mr. McKay has made provision in his will whereby the Harvard Scientific School will be richer by $5,000,000 upon his death. Mr. McKay has always taken a great interest in the school and is a warm friend of Prof. Shaler, the RESENTED BY GEORGE GOULD. J. P. M'CANN WAS MURDERED. A Reported Slight to His Wire the Cause for Not Playing a Polo Match.

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.-George Gould disappointed the Westchester County polo team to-day by suddenly withdrawing his Lakewood players from the championship match which was to have been played between the two on the Philadelphia Country Club's grounds at Bala this afternoon. In a telegram he announced his decision giving as a reason "press of business. lis twenty-five polo ponies, which he had shipped over from Georgian Court, were all shipped back to-day.

Society is mystified, but there are two explanations offered for the withdrawal. The first is that H. P. Whitney, who plays on the Westchester team, had some of his horses running at Sheepshead to-day and wanted to see them on the track. Consequently he persuaded Mr. Gould to call the natch off.

Society and the country club do not take this reason very seriously. They do enter-tain, however, the story that an unintentional social slight gave rise to Mr. Gould's determination. Concerning this, a member of the country club said to-night.

"Mr. Gould was quick tempered and chose to take a mere lapse of memory as a slight. A member of the Philadelphia Country Club, who by the way, is not a polo player, invited Mrs. Gould and her party to occupy seats on his coach at the match between the Lakewood team and the Bryn Mawr fox hunters on last Thursday. This was about a week prior to the match, and the clubman subsequently forgot all about it. Then he asked another club member who resides at Bala, and his wife, to occupy the coach.

"When Mr. and Mrs. Gould with her mother, Mrs. Kingdon, Jay Gould, Kingdon Gould and Benjamin Nicoll came over from Lakewood on Thursday, they used a couple of ordinary carriages, expecting to have places on the clubman's coach. The forgetful clubman's coach was there all right, with the guests on the box. The clubman had been called suddenly to New York and was not there at all. No one invited the Gould party to join them and there was no explanation. As a consequence of this Mrs. Gould and Mrs. Kingdon took seats on the grand stand. This, they say, made Mr. Gould angry, and when he got over to New York he decided not to come back. That's the story and it's straight.

STOLE HIS MOTHER'S $22,000. 18-Year-Old Boy Wanted to Be a Stock Broker-Property Recovered.

PHILADELPHIA, June 27 .- Desiring to become a stock broker, eighteen-year-old John W. Nill of 3308 Locust street to-day abstracted $22,000 worth of bonds from the safe deposit vault of his mother, Mrs Susan Nill, who is awidow, and the money stolen represented her sole property.

Nill secured his mother's signature to an order for the bonds on the Provident Trust and Safe Deposit Company by leading her to believe that she was signing s Immediately upon gaining possession of the papers, Nill arranged with R. Berry, a broker of 308 Chestnut street, to convert $10,000 worth of the bonds into cash. The broker paid him $4,500 down, promising him the balance on Monday. Afterward, becoming suspicious, Berry notified Mrs. Nill of the transaction, with the result that this evening the lad was arrested and $4,470 was found on him. The boy broke down and confessed his crime. The balance of the bonds were found at the house of a friend to whom Nill had intrusted them.

MEMPHIS GIRL FOUND HIDDEN. ne Here to Study and Disauteared

-Young Man Charged With Abduction. Andrew Martin, who said he was a clerk, of 145 Henry street, Brooklyn, was arrested last night by Detectives McKenna and Vance of the East Twenty-second street station on the charge of abducting Lydinile Gurch, 16 years old, of 326 East Fifteenth street. The girls' parents live in Memphis and are rich, according to the police, and she had been living with her guardian, Mrs. Florence Esmond, since last winter, when be came up here to study. The girl disappeared on Friday, and Mrs. Esmond no fied the police. They picked up Martin, who, Mrs. Esmond said, had been hanging around the house trying to get the girl to marry him. The girl was found in a furnished room at No. 239 West 127th street. She said she had been taken there by Martin against her will.

MESSAGES OF THE PRESIDENTS."

one of Richardson's Alleged Agents Gets Into Trouble at Mahaney City, Pa. MAHANOY CITY, Pa., June 27 .- One of the agents for ex-Congressman Richardson's set of boots, "Messages of the Presidents" is in trouble here. His name is George J. Joslin and he gives his residence as Camden, N. J. For several weeks Joslin has been in this city extelling Richardson's books. He represented it as being the greatest work of its kind ever published and said that in complling it the author spent thousands of dollars. He said further that he was personally acquainted with Mr. Richardson and knew him to be a statesmann of rare shility and one of "the greatest men that ever eat in Congress."

Joslin succeeded in disposing of the books to Joseph Wyatt, an ex-member of the Legislature, and upon this sale he endeavored to make others.

Charles Parmley, a business man, paid Joslin $635 for the books, but they were not delivered to him. Joslin told him he had communicated with the headquarters of the Richardson firm in Washington, and received a reply that the books had been shipped. They did not come, and Mr. Parmley swore out a warrant for Joslin's Joslin and he gives his residence as Cam-shipped. They did not come, and Mr. Parmley swore out a warrant for Joslin's arrest, and he was taken into custody at Shenandoah to-day.

At the hearing the prisoner would say nothing except that he was not being treated squarely by his firm, and that he would get even with several of its members. In default of bail Joslin was sent to the Potts-wills isl to await trial.

STUDENT ARRESTED FOR THEFT. Robbed Booms in the Parker House. Boston--Held for the Grand Jury.

Boston, June 27 .- Edward A. Sweetser. who was arrested on a charge of robbing certain rooms in the Parker House, appeared in the Municipal Court to-day and was held in $1,200 for the Grand Jury. He waived in $1,200 for the Grand Jury. He waived examination

Sweetzer, it is declared by the police, is a student at the Gordon Theological Training School; He was formerly at Denning University in Ohio. About two years ago he was arrested and sent to the reformatory for stealing a lot of shoe laces. Sweetzer frequently attended the services in Tremont Temple and watched the rear windows of the Parker House. When he saw a guest leave his room he crawled across the fire escape and entered the rooms by the windows. He was in the habit of buying dinners for chorus girls.

Girl Drawned in East River Slip. A girl of about six years, whose name i not known to the police, was drowned last evening while trying to board a lighter belonging to Wright & Co., at Pier 30, East River. The only persons near by when the accident occurred were three other children who reported the matter to Pollogman George Moder of the Madhen street station.

BODY OF ST. LOUIS HORSEMAN FOUND IN WOODS.

"Lord" Barrington Again Arrested and Charged With the Crimo-Was Last Seen in McCann's Company-The Hedy Found Nude in a Quarry.

St. Louis, June 27 .- The dead body of James P. McCann, the missing ravehorse man, was found this afternoon in the woods beyond Suburban Park. It was nude, and lying at the edge of a pond in an old quarry near Benifils Station, on the St. Charles and Western electric railroad.

J. B. C. Lucas, the well-known real estate lealer, on whose property the old quarry is situated, notified the police by telephone of the discovery of the body and detectives ere sent to the scene.

They found the shoes of the murdered man in the woods a quarter of a mile from where the bodywas discovered and near by an empty pocketbook. Believing that the body was that of McCann, who has been missing since June 18, the shoes and pocket took were taken to his former home and there identified by Mrs. McCann as belonging to her husband. She said that McCann had a large sum of money in his possession when he left his home. Word was sent out to rearrest "Lord"

F. Seymour Barrington, who was known to have been in McCann's company on the night of his disappearance Barrington had been arrested on Thursday, but was released the next day, there being nothing to show that foul play had been committed. The discovery of the body put a new phase on the case. Barrington was found at McCann's home, where he had boarded before the disappearance of the horseman. He was arrested and taken to the Four Courts where he was "sweated. He adhered to the story he told on Friday. hat he and McCann were at a summer garden and were assaulted there by two men. Later, McCann went off in a cab with one of his assailants and a woman.

Barrington served a workhouse sentence for assaulting James Cochrane of Kansas City, whose young sister, Wilhelmina Grace, ne had inveigled into marriage with stories of his fabulous wealth and connection with the British nobility. After his arrest he admitted that he was not a nobleman nor an officer in the Horse Guards.

After Barrington's release from the worknouse he accepted a place in a saloon, the notoriety he had achieved making him a drawing card.

ATTACKS FRENCH MINISTRY. Former Premier Waldrek-Rousseau Discusses Associations Law. Special Cable Despatch to THE STN.

Panis, June 27 .- M. Waldeck-Rousseau the former Prime Minister, made an important speech in the Senate to-day in which he criticised the Government's interpretation of the Congregations bill. The speech deeply impressed the lobbies and will certainly shake the prestige of the Government.

The anti-clerical policy of the Government threatens to divide France into two as completely as the Dreyfus case did.

The latest bill forbidding members of associations to teach in any schools which have been secularized by granting control to secular persons is looked upon by some as direct persecution and as showing that the French electors are ready to harass all members of monastic establishments. though they are willing to retain the parish

In the vote on the bill seeking for the authorization of eighty-one female congregations yesterday the majority of the Government in favor of rejection of the proposition was only 16.

BUFFALO BUTTS ATROLLEY CAR. Circus Animal Has a Lively Time and Dies of His Injuries.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 27.-A Buffalo bull which escaped from a circus had an exciting battle with a trolley car at this place last night and died of his injuries. The animal was dazzled by the light of the reflector on one of the cars. He was being driven, late last night, from the show grounds to the station. He bellowed in fury and butted the car again

After the light went out he seemed satisfield that he had conquered and submitted to being driven off. The animal was frightfully injured about the head. He died at noon to-day. The passengers of the car were thrown into great excitement by the incident.

NONE IN SING SING YET.

Weller and the Get-Rich-Hutek Meb All Have Temporary Stays.

None of the men who were concerned in the get-rich-quick game known as "the sick engineer," who succeeded in buncoing folks out of several thousands of dollars in various parts of the country by means of the worthless stock of the Horseshoe Copper Mining Company, have yet been taken to Sing Sing.

Thomas Putnam, the old-time crook known as Baker Tom, who played the part of the sick engineer in the game, secured temporary stay from Supreme Court Justice Truax after Justice Fitzgerald had sentenced him to Sing Sing. Carbonell, who was indicted and convicted under the name of Ewen S. Clarke, also secured a stay from Justice Truax. In both these ases argument on a motion for a new trial cases argument on a motion for a new trial will be made to-morrow.

William Qualey, the former president of the Horseshoe company, who pleaded guilty, will also remain in the Tombs for a few days at lesst. His counsel submitted an affidavit to Justice Davis in the Supreme Court stating that he wanted time to make restitution before being sentenced.

Frank S. Weller, the treasurer, who was convicted and sentenced on Friday night, has succeeded in getting a temporary stay.

All the prisoners were visited yesterday in the Tombs by relatives and friends. Weller's wife, who told him that she believed that he was simply a dupe and that he had friends who would stand by and see him go to Sing Sing. Among his friends he numbers Hiram Odell, who is a brother of the Governor, and with whom he was at one time associated in the grocery business.

BANK MERGER IN BOSTON. The First National and the Massachusetts Deal Closed.

BOSTON, June 27 -- The First National Bank and the Massachusetts National Bank have been merged. The latter will be liquidated, and the First will continue business in the quarters, in the Exchange Building, now occupied by the Massachus-etts. A fortnight ago it was announced that Arthur E. Appleyard had bought a controlling interest in the First National for New York capitalists, and this announcefor New York capitalists, and this announcement was supplemented by a statement that there was a hich in the negotiations. It is understood, however, that this morning Mr. Appleyard successfully culminated the deal so far as he was concerned and then arranged a deal with the officials of the Massachusetts Bank. The marger will make of the new bank a powerful institution with about $11,000,000 in deposits. The Massachusetts is the oldest bank in Soston. It was incorporated in 1734. MESSENGER' BOYS RIOT.

They Might the Negro Men Who Hav Displaced Them in Atlanta.

ATLANTA, Cla., June 27 .- Two hundred white messenger boys were thrown out of employment at a o'clock this afternoon by the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies and their places filled with negro men. The action of the two companies is taken after a full consideration of the situation. The officials of both com-panies say that it is done to get better

As a result of the change, rows have been the order around the headquarters of the telegraph companies to-night. It was feared to use negro boys, as it was well known that the white boys would not be long in running them off the streets. The grown men employed by the telegraph companies have fared little better, as the boys have banded together and a mob of them has attacked the messengers every ime they leave the office.

Six boys jumped on one negro at Western Union headquarters and bruised him badly before the office force could resoue the negro. The management then had to call on ne police to clear the office of boys, but hey are hanging around and miss no chance to attack their successors. As both com-panies have made the change the boys will hardly have a chance to institute a boycott, but they say that they will continue o make it lively for the negro messengers and force the companies to take them back.

THE ARROW A WRECK. Yacht That Was Finally Turned to Commercial l'ses. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 27 .- The conerted sloop Arrow, Capt. Ballinger, from Philadelphia for Atlantic City, after a checkered career as a private yacht and commercial boat, struck on the beach opposite here this morning and was thrown y the action of the tides to-night on a jetty. She pounded a big hole in her hull which caused her to fill with water and settle in the sand. Her owner has given her up for lost.

The Arrow was trying to the up to a small pier when one of her fenders caught in the wharf. Before she could be loosened she was turned by the tide and sent to her fate. She was 75 feet long. It was reported here that she had twice defended the America's Cup, but this is not true. Recently she was fitted with steam power.

PAST STEPPING AT MATINEE.

GOOD SPORT AT NEW YORK DRIVING CLUB RACES.

Forney, 2:10 1-4, Trois Hair a Mile in 1.02 1-4, and Wins a Wager-Swift Takes Bash From Kingmond and Jolly Bachelor -Speed In Workouts.

The members of the New York Driving Club could scarcely have asked for more perfect conditions for the second matines meet of the season than those of vesterday. The weather was perfect, the trail was like the proverbial billiard table, and the crowd numbered many thousands and was generous n demonstrations

There was a lot of good sport that was not on the regular programme. Monroe Salia-bury sent several of the members of his stabl fast working miles, some of them the best of the season. Monte Carlo, 2:09%, trotted a mile in 2:11, evenly rated, the first half in Estelle, 2:24%, trotted an easy mile in 2:15 with the last half in 1:05. Fred Dietz's Speed-way winner, Miss Overton, 2:26%, was sent with the last half in 1.95. Fred Dietz's Speedway winner, Miss Overton, 2:26%, was sent a mile well within herself in 2:17%, and Dahlei O'Dell's big bay mare, M. M. D., 2:19%, trotted a nile in 2:14%.

A surprise came when John Howell brought out A. B. Gwathney's trotter, Forney, 2:19%, and sent him a hair mile to decide a small wager of $500—that he would beat 1:94. The horse won the money with ease, trotting the distance in 1:92%.

The greatest interest in the regular programe centred in Event 8, a two-in-three race for trotters. At the last meeting the race was a dash and in the mud Swift defeated Jolly Bachelor without beating 2:20. Yesterday Kingmond, 2:09, made the third starter, and the trace was good. Jolly Bachelor drew the pole with Swift on the outside. Kingmond trotted fast enough around the turn to take the pole at the quarter-mile pole, and Swift assumed second position down the backstretch. In the homestretch, Swift challenged the leader and finally beat him. Jolly Bachelor was a poor third.

Kingmond made a break in the second heat before reaching the first turn, and that cost him all chance of winning. Swift really led from start to finish. In the homestretch Jolly Bachelor challenged him, and the crowd cheered as the two horses came lapped to the finish, but Swift was at all times in command. The time was 2:15, which made both heats faster than the public record of the winner.

BURNED AT A LAWN PARTY. Gasolene Torch Explodes in a Tent-Nine Persons In jured Seriously:

Boston, June 27 .- About 9 o'clock this evening a gasolene torch exploded in a tent on the grounds of the Consumptives' Home at 428 Quincy street, Dorchester, burning nine people severely on the face and hands It is believed that all of the injured will be carred for life. A lawn party for the benefit of the home was being held at the time and the tent where the explosion occurred was one in where the explosion occurred was one in which refreshments were being served. It was crowded with children and some of them were skylarking. The torch was hung up on one of the tent poles and one of the children jostled it from its place.

The can fell to the ground and exploded, scattering the blazing oil among the crowd.

A panic followed. The children who were burned deshed from the tent shrieking, and the others on the ground rushed to the tent.

As quickly as possible the sufferers were carried to the hospital in ambulances and a patrol wagon. The hospital reports that all are severely burned, but that it is impossible to say whether any have inhaled the flames.

Darkness Stons Interesting Doubles Match at Crescent A. C.

Perfect weather favored the players in the Crescent team match contests held at Bay Ridge yesterday afternoon. Long before the appearance of the players the grand stand and benches surrounding the courts were well filled, with the terrace overlooking the grounds well crowded with late comers. The card for the day was amended, Little laring with Carleton instead of Alexander This change did not detract from the interest as the Larned-Whitman vs. Ware-Ward match was to be the feature. Darkness stopped this contest with the teams tied at two sets all and five games each on the lifth Fine team play by Ward and Ware charac-

iant individual work. The champion and ex-champion have the making of a grand combination but practice together is an esential Yesterday Whitman was at times a bit off in his strokes losing a number of un necessary points. Larned played his usual easy game often scoring on well-placed drives To the onlookers this team appeared a bit the better had it not been for careless work at critical moments. Ward played well at the net frequently killing the ball by a welldirect d smash. His partner put up a careful steady game and the pair made eve y stroke tell. Both teams lobbed when on the detentell. Both teams lobbed when on the defensive. With a little better net play Larned and Whitman might have landed the match. Ward and Ware assumed the lead on the opening match with the score a 4-2. By clever placing Larned and Whitmain tied the games. The next game went to the same pair, giving them the lead. A chance to tie at 5-5 was lost by Ward and Ware, the first set going to their opponents, 6-4. It looked a bit like a Larned-Whitman win at this point. The second set proved a struggle, going to a bit like a Larned-Whitman win at this point. The second set proved a struggle, going to deuce several times before Larned and Whitman scored the necessary points, 9-7. With two sets in their favor the champion and exchampion took matters somewhat easy until the games were tied at 5 all.

Ward and Ware kept the pace too fast, however, and in spite of another tie at six all, the two next games went to the Middle States champion and partner. Ward's kills at the net were noticeable in this set. The same team took the fourth set 6-4, tieing the score at two sets all. It was still either team's match and the lifth set was run up to five all en even play. Darkness prevented the finish.

on even play. Baraness prevented the finish.

The other match was a close one, as the score shows, but, because of the substitution, cannot count in the standing.

Miss Moore Regains Tennis Championship. PHILADELPHIA, June 27.-Miss Elizabeth Moore regained her title of tennis champion from Miss Marion Jones this afternoon in traight sets. From the very start Miss Moore obtained a lead, scoring five games against two for her opponent. But right here the holder made a strong attempt to turn the tide, and captured the next three games. Miss Moore was not to be denied, however, and by means of some brilliant side line shots secured the next two games and the set. It was nip and turk in the second set from beginning to
